

Ops Report May-June 2023

Introduction

Events have been in full swing with the the 4-day bank holiday for the Coronations of King Charles II and the Canterbury Wine Festival in May, followed by Pride Canterbury, the Taste of Kent Festival, English Wine Week and Kent Cricket Week in June and the Medieval Pageant on July 1st. Our free fold-out shopping maps and Canterbury Summer Guides were distributed widely to ensure all visitors had new reasons to explore the city.

The BID Team have had a packed schedule attending conferences, community events and championing local businesses through the Taste Of Kent Awards, Muddy Stiletto, Plastic Free Accreditation and the Association of Town and City Management Purple Flag Study Tour and Summer School events. Community Safety Hubs, Zero Tolerance Training and Safer Streets projects have all been actively supported and attended by the BID team. The Business Cost Saving Program launched in March has been hugely successful with over £90,000 of savings identified so far.

Sales, footfall and new business opening have remained positive with three new business opening in the city centre and voluntary members actively involved in our projects and events. We are currently focussed on increasing dwell time, spreading footfall around the city and developing a toolkit to attract new businesses to Canterbury.

BID Networking remains as popular as ever with a fully booked breakfast networking followed by a community litter pick in the Castle Quarter in May and June's networking was combined with the BID's annual AGM drawing in over 100 guests to hear about the impact of the BID's investment in the city.

Summer was officially recognised by the installation of our hanging flower baskets now in full bloom across the city together with the bunting installed in early May and new King's Mile banners in June.

On a final note our Marketing platforms are continuing to provide a powerful boost to Canterbury's profile both locally and nationally, with Visit Canterbury giving a taster of our city with regular blogs, posts, uploads and reels, and our MyCanterbury providing locals with more direct business advertising.
